

Recovery Under the Stars

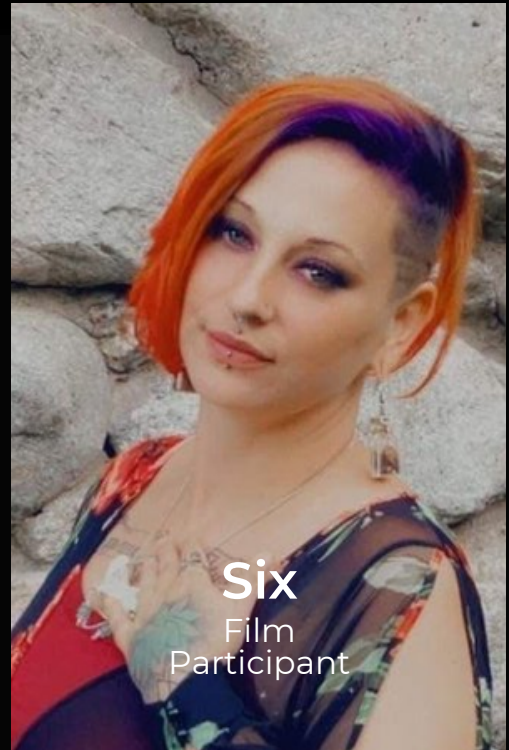

Director Lisa Olivieri and the main protagonist, Six (formerly Christine), will join us on November 16th for a special Q&A session via Zoom following our film screening! Don't miss this unique opportunity to hear firsthand insights and behind-the-scenes stories from the filmmaker and the film's inspiring main subject.

Special Guests

Lisa Olivieri
Director

Lisa Olivieri is an award-winning documentary filmmaker in the Boston area. Her first documentary, Blindsided, is an intimate portrait of a female artist slowly losing her sight and hearing while surviving her abusive girlfriend. The film has won numerous awards, including the Artistic Achievement Award in Directing from the qFLIX Film Festival/Worcester, and the Jury Award for Best Documentary from The Women's Film Festival/Philadelphia.

Six
Film Participant

I am a person in long term recovery. Since December 23, 2016, I have been sober and have rebuilt my life around community, my children, recovery and advocacy. As a parent in recovery who had been stigmatized, advocating for compassionate care of people is a passion that I'm emboldened to pursue. I learned through my recovery that what keeps a large number of people from active addiction is genuine connection within their community.
